The Russell 1000 Index measures the performance of roughly 1,000 US large-cap companies. The Russell 1000 Value Index measures the performance of US large-cap companies with lower price/book ratios and forecasted growth values. The indexes are unmanaged, market capitalization weighted, include net reinvested dividends, do not reflect fees or expenses (which would lower the return) and are not available for direct investment. Index data source: London Stock Exchange Group PLC. See diamond-hill.com/disclosures for full disclaimers.

⁴Active Share measures the difference between portfolio holdings and the benchmark. The higher the active share, the greater the risk. Relative to the Russell 1000 Index. Standard Deviation measures the volatility of a portfolio's returns. Beta measures a portfolio's sensitivity to market movements. Sharpe Ratio is the measure of risk-adjusted return of an investment portfolio. Alpha is the excess return of an investment relative to the index's return. R-squared represents the percentage of a portfolio's movements that can be explained by general market movements. Up/Down Capture Ratio is used to evaluate how well a portfolio performed relative to an index during periods when that index has risen/dropped. Statistics for periods less than one year are not annualized.
